ABOUT

Two sides, one sound

Alter Melego grew up on the golden era of 90s R&B and house — and he has been playing that music to dancefloors ever since.

He was already spinning at parties and in clubs as a teenager, barely old enough to get through the door himself, and he has never stopped. His style is wide open: R&B, hip-hop, reggaeton, dance house and electro-pop, blended so naturally that a mixed crowd ends up on the same floor. Finding that harmony between styles, and meeting every audience's expectations, is what he does best.

His sets have taken him across Belgium, France, Germany, Switzerland, Spain and Croatia, to Morocco in North Africa and as far as Thailand.

As a producer he works in house and electronic music: melodic house, deep textures and cinematic atmospheres carried by a strong groove. Depth without heaviness, energy without aggression, emotion without excess.

Radio shaped him as much as the clubs. He was the very first resident DJ at Radio KIF when the station launched, before taking his urban mixes to Fun Radio on the Urban Fun show — sets you can still hear on his SoundCloud. On air there is no crowd to read, only listeners to keep, and every transition counts: a discipline he brings to every booth.

SHORT BIO · 50 WORDS

Belgian DJ and producer Alter Melego has been behind the decks since 1998. Raised on 90s R&B and house, he moves from hip-hop and reggaeton to house in one set, and has played across Europe, Morocco and Thailand. First resident DJ at Radio KIF, then Fun Radio's Urban Fun.
